

Physics Collaboration Program

In Physics Collaboration Program, you can learn basic knowledge and skills related to physics. The ability to explore unknown issues based on the principles and laws of physics can be also acquired. Your skills mastered through the curriculum in this Program will contribute to the advancement of science and technology in the local and international society, as researchers, educators, and engineers.